Help your family get ready for any emergency in three easy steps:

1. Get a kit

Does anyone in your family need special stuff like medicine, or do you have a little brother or sister who needs diapers? If so, don't forget to add these items to your kit.

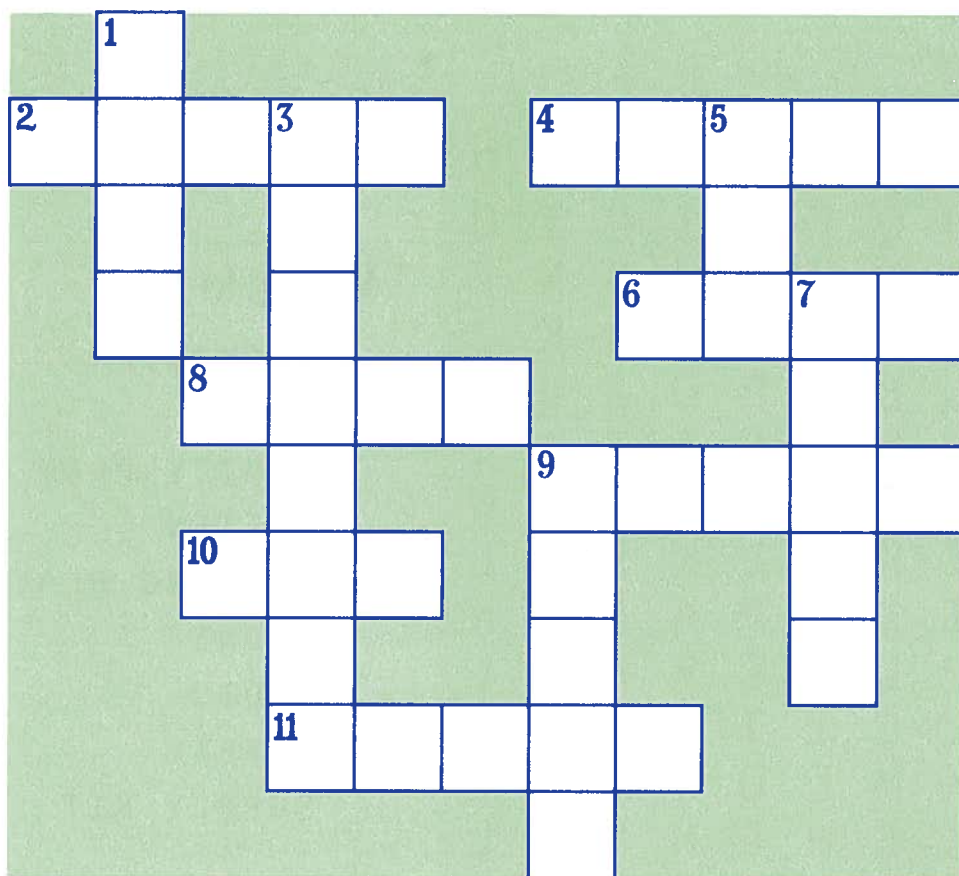

2. Make a plan

Remember, your family should have two meeting places: one near your home and one outside your neighborhood in case you can't return to your home.

3. Stay informed

The most important things you can do during an unexpected event are to stay calm and listen to the direction of adults around you, like your teachers or parents.
